From your base in Tokyo, you will visit some of the most impressive sights of Japan. Tour the 7th-century Sensoji Temple in Asakusa and visit the Odaiba Observation Deck, located at the headquarters of Fuji Television. WATER TOWN OF
ZHUJIAJIAO
SHANGHAI, CHINA

Discover Shanghai's version of Venice in the ancient water town of Zhujiajiao, which was founded more than 1,700 years ago. As you will see, the town is wonderfully atmospheric. Ancient buildings from the Qing Dynasty line the stone streets, centuries-old arched bridges span the canals and narrow lanes wind through the city, lending Zhujiajiao an ambience all its own. A boat ride through the canals presents a different perspective of this unique city. If the waterways are busy, the ride will be even more delightful, as you will get an authentic feel for daily life in one of China's most unusual settings. A historical post office nearby is also intriguing, as it opened in 1862, a time when correspondence was often written on bamboo and wood. You will also browse an ancient pharmacy that dispenses herbal medicines, following a tradition that dates back thousands of years.

BALI, INDONESIA

Observe the terraced rice fields surrounding an agricultural village and visit an atmospheric water temple located up in the mountains. Upon reaching Baha Village, you will see the verdant rice terraces that have become synonymous with this part of Bali and learn how the local farmers maintain them. Lake Beratan is the source of much of the area’s water, as you will discover at Ulun Danu, a picturesque temple complex on the lake’s western shore. It was built in the 17th century to honour the lake goddess Danu and demonstrates the importance of water to the Balinese people. The crystal-clear lake and mountainous backdrop make a striking setting well worth capturing.

ART AND CULTURE OF BELÉM

BELÉM (ICOARACI), BRAZIL

Explore the art and culture of Belém during a half-day tour of this historic city that rubber fortunes helped build. No single building shows this off more than the Teatro da Paz opera house — a fabulously ornate rococo gem from the 19th century located in Belém's main square. Continuing on the theme of gems, you'll call on the São José Liberto Jewel Museum, where gold, diamonds, emeralds, tourmalines and other precious gems are on display and the history of mining in Amazonia is explored. At the Museum of Sacred Art, housed in a 17th-century baroque church and considered Brazil's most important museum, you'll be dazzled by treasures of a different sort — some 300 pieces of the country's most impressive religious art. An escorted walk from here brings you to the 17th-century Presépio Fort, now home to a museum focused on the history of Belem's indigenous residents before, during and after the Portuguese arrived in 1616. Exhibits include everything from ancient funerary urns to coins brought in by settlers. Out on the waterfront patio, original 19th-century cannons still seem poised for a battle that never comes.
